

NAVIGATION – Birds and Whales

Teachers Notes

This worksheet shows how useful it is for humans to have an understanding and relationship with their natural environment.

The birds can easily be identified by through online research but remember these are Pacific Ocean seabirds. Similar birds to ours but not the same.

So to go between one island and the other – you would see Birds in this order

C B D A D B C

The Polynesians watched the whales and at the same time watched the stars.

Answer – The stars would always be in the same position when the whales migrated so they would learn to use the stars and not rely on chasing pods of fast moving whales

This answer introduces celestial navigations – future lessons and other worksheets
